

"WHAT THEY CALL CHANGE..."

© 2009 Changing Rhymes

What they call change... I want to learn, just how to stop... to say "Adjourn."
If wearing House or Senate hat,
it matters not - who's up to bat!

Cuz spin is in and brains are out,
you see my point? just give a shout!
For words are twisted, turned around,
All wrong is "right," it's upside-down.

They're all about what they perceive,
and think that folks will still believe,
the lies they tell, the polls they take.
MOST folks can see their huge mistake!

For workin' hard is now passé
the guys that coast will get their way.
You earned your keep? Well, don't look now.
the ones in charge love Chairman Mao.
So from your tax, they'll get their check,
to foreign kings they genuflect.

The dollars come, the dollars go...
in trillions now, it's all for show.
Don't think this change will be so fair,
Don't hold your breath for medicare.

The doctor's in for those without,
but if you're old, you have no clout.
At sixty five, your mind is keen,
still you're too old for flu vaccine.

It worked before it all went broke,
before the chant that they invoked...
The "yes we can" they spoke with glee,
will soon become a: "Woe is me!"

BUT, we can stand - just hear my cry!
What they call "change" will have to die.
Let's vote them out, it's not too late.
Please don't give up - don't take the bait!

Our flag has flown in tougher times,
through bitter storms, rough hills to climb.
No matter drought, disease or war,
We fought the fight, came back for more.

At Normandy we made the beach,
and saved the French from Hitler's reach.
Though knowing it was not our shore,
We fought for them - and us - still more.

From London where destruction fell,
the GI's flew, they broke the spell.
Pacific islands even knew,
the U. S. fleet had quite a crew.

Through other wars and loss we've come.
Iraq, Korea and Vietnam.
We must not quit, or fail to fight.
Their "right" is wrong, our "wrong" is right.

Keep speaking out for grace and truth!
For people old and in their youth,
For every Dad and Mom and child to know of freedom undefiled.

So in the year 2010,
proclaim sound principles again.
Prepare to work to rearrange...
so we can stop this thing called "change."
