Attention Incoming Presidents

This is a new beginning! For those clubs that won the TFRW John Goodwin Tower Award of Excellence in the past, it is time to begin preparing to win it again. Those clubs that have not won it, should strive to achieve it. You have two years to complete the requirements. The award form may be found on the TFRW website. It will be slightly revised by the spring. However, the basic requirements will remain the same. Make sure your club's program chair, membership chair and campaign chair review the portions of the award that apply to them. Their programs and activities should follow the basics of this award. Remember, eligibility is the key. To begin with, each club treasurer must submit their new club officers by January 1st each year and the first installment of dues for 2010 and 2011 should be postmarked no later than January 31st. The John Goodwin Tower Award of Excellence will be awarded to the eligible clubs in November of 2011 at the TFRW convention.

The same is true for the NFRW Achievement Award, eligibility and completion of the requirements are the keys to win it. There are several award levels (such as the Diamond Award which is the highest) that will be presented to the eligible clubs at the NFRW convention in September of 2011. This is a national award.

Both awards are essential to a healthy, active club. Let's start the New Year out right and prepare for your club's future. If I can be of any help, please feel free to contact me via email or telephone.
