Auxiliaries of the Republican Party

Did you know that TFRW is one of eight official auxiliaries of the Republican Party of Texas? The various organizations of the Republican Party are what give life to the Party in all areas of our community: this is where the Party is in action, where we meet new voters, where we grow our base, where we find new volunteers and new leaders.

What does it mean that a group is an "official" auxiliary of the Republican Party? It means that the organization has fulfilled several requirements that are set by the State Republican Executive Committee (SREC) and has met with the Coalitions and Auxiliaries Committee. The full SREC must vote to approve the "official" status, and each auxiliary must re-apply every two years.

While TFRW is the largest of the auxiliaries both in numbers of members and numbers of clubs, it is important that we network with all of the other auxiliary groups as we work for victory in November. We can and should maintain communication to share information about events and other activities . . . it is not a competition amongst ourselves for we are all on the same team, working together for the big win!
