

Glynis Chester is the President of the Texas Federation of Republican Women; an organization with over 10,000 members and 162 constituent clubs located throughout Texas. Founded in 1955, TFRW works to elect Republicans to office at all levels of government, promote Republican philosophies among citizens of all ages, support Republican initiatives in the state legislature, and advance the participation of Republican women in all areas of our political system.

A transplant from Las Vegas, Nevada, Glynis Chester and her husband Michael moved to Texas in 1992 to raise their four children. A lifelong Republican, she chose to focus her volunteer efforts in the political arena once her children reached high school age. She has worked on campaigns at every level from School Board to U.S. President since 1986 and began her service on the TFRW Board in 2013 as the District Director of Senate District 8.

In her capacity as President, Glynis travels the state and beyond speaking to groups about the importance of political involvement, unity in a culture of divisiveness, and many other topics. Her objective is to build bridges and expand the Republican Party through shared values. "It's not enough to be right- we must win the hearts of American families."

Glynis and her husband are small business owners in Frisco and proud grandparents to three precocious grandchildren Marilyn, Connor, and Matthew.
